

We are looking for

Managers and specialists (m/f/d) in the automotive sector

Retail- Wholesale / OEM- Services and Suppliers (Tier 1 and 2)

dmconsulting specialises in management and personnel consulting in the automotive sector. Due to our many years of expertise, networks and valid, resilient client relationships, we achieve extraordinary success. In the HR sector, we diligently fill management and specialist positions at both national and international level. Our focus is on comprehensive partnership-based guidance of qualified applicants and intensive consulting of the customer to this effect. This enables us to achieve above-average satisfaction and lasting success, both for candidates and customers. For us, the “human is the measure of all things”. Alongside high-level, exceptional qualifications, empathy and authenticity are particularly important – think beyond the obvious.

We are seeking managers and specialists (m/f/d) in the automotive sector

Retail/Wholesale – OEM/Services – Suppliers (Tier 1 and 2)

Your profile

- You possess outstanding training and expertise in the automotive sector
- Your empathy, drive, goal-orientation, motivation and personality complement each other in a homogeneous and natural way
- Your approach is multicultural, confident, characterised by appropriate rhetoric and, where the role requires it, you also possess the appropriate foreign language skills
- Is your CV homogeneous and marked by steady development steps?
- Do you have an excellent reputation for integrity and appropriate personal references?
- You are focussed on the position, task and your own standards
- Flexibility is a given for you – personally and in terms of your working environment – in particular when it comes to location
- You respond to creative possibilities and openness with impressive, strategic ideas and implementation options

Does that sound like you? Then put yourself forward and impress us with your documents. Take the next or an alternative professional step with us and embark on a career change. You can expect clients and companies with a first-class reputation, both nationally and internationally.

Change your thinking and follow success!
